Southern Bell reunion packs Drawbridge Cafe

Editor What started out as a germ of an idea between a few for-mer Southern Bell Telephone operators in Belle Glade blos-operators in Belle Giade Dios-somed into a big party at the Drawbridge Cafe Saturday. Joanne Deaton, Faye Alford, Melinda Dees, Mary Landing, Carolyn Terrell, Francis McLeod and Sandra Scott got together a few months ago and McLeod and Sandra Scott got together a few months ago and thought why not have a 20 year reunion of local Southern Bell Telephone operators? The idea snowballed and on Sept. 16, over 110 former oper-ture techniques with several ators, technicians, cable crew men, and their families met for a day of swapping stories and pictures of children and grandpictures children.

Many have moved from the area, but returned for the day from locations as far away as North Carolina, New Mexico, Georgia, Mississippi and Southern Bell first installed equipment in Belle Glade in 1935. The local Southern Bell office traffic department closed its doors in 1975.

At that time, there weren't many people in the Glades with telephones. By 1975, when the 1935 switchboards were switched out for "modern" equipment, there were 8,500 telephones on the 996 cchange. Today, there are so many 996 exchanges that another exchange has been added in the last few years, the 992 exchange.

Dennis Deaton of Belle Glade Dennis Beaton or Belle Glade provided many of the pho-tographs enjoyed by those attending the reunion. He also brought along old telephone equipment, including the high-light of the reunion, an old switchboard, called Operator-

Many of the ladies in attendance sat at the old switch-board, pretending to plug in the old lines, and laughing at each other over their antics.

Mr. Deaton says he started with Southern Bell in the early 1960's. He was a technician for Southern Bell, and then AT& Southern Bell, and then AT& T. He now owns his own telephone repair service in the

Also recognized was Evelyn Long Houston, who had been with the company before it was even called Southern Bell. Ms. Houston said she started in Belle Glade in 1931. She was only 16 at the time and she worked part time selling tick-ets at the old Gold Theatre.

"They wanted me to be the manager, but I was only 16, so I couldn't have the job," she said. Ms. Houston said she can't remember what she was paid in the early days, but she remembers it wasn't much.

Community leaders give input on area development

Community leaders from Belle Glade, Pahokee and South Bay met last Thursday at Palm Beach Community College to help set the agenda for local development. The Rural Initiative Advisory

Louis Berry to be honored at Rosenwald Elementary event

To commemorate the upcoming celebration of the annual Grandparent's Day to be held Friday, Sept. 22 at Rosenwald Elementary School in South Bay, Rosenwald will honor Louise Berry.

Mrs. Berry is responsible for naming the school. Although her naming the school. Although her husband owned a restaurant in Belle Glade and a general store in the city of South Bay, Mrs. Berry only settled in South Bay in the late 1940's.

In 1950 a survey was taken and a contest sponsored by the school board and local business persons for the naming of Rosenwald Elementary.

The person submitting the best name, pending school board approval, would receive a monetary award.

Mrs. Berry said she had attended a school as a child called Rosenwald, and it was a very special experience for her. She decided to submit Rosenwald Elementary as her choice.

The school board concurred with her choice and thus Rosenwald Elementary in the City of South Bay came into existence.

Mrs. Berry, widowed, is the mother of three. Her daughter,
Dr. Eather Berry, is an educational consultant with her company, Training and Evaluation Associates. Dr. Berry is also program manager for the Private Industry Council (PIC) in South Bay Bay.
Another daughter, Ruth

Another daughter, huen Allen, is the guidance counselor at Wellington High and her daughter, Vivian Green, is the special projects administrator in Ft. Walton Beach.

Mrs. Berry is also a grand-mother of three; Kenyatta Allen, Ernest Green, Jr. and Freddie Allen, Jr.

Mrs. Berry's hobbies are: sewing, knitting and crocheting, which she finds just a bit more difficult now considering she is 81 years old. She says she is still an avid reader. Her daughter, Esther quickly interjected and also an excellent cook."
Mrs. Berry said her philosophy is "Telling people about God, for he is the answer to all our problems." Mrs. Berry's hobbies are:

Brian Wright is a storm ch er. He spent the spring of 1994 pursuing thunderstorms, squall lines and tornadoes in the Plains. Yet, Brian didn't bring a camera or any weather equipment to record his meteorological adventures. Instead, he carried a tape recorder.

Brian is a sound engineer from Hollywood. You can usu-ally find him recording the sounds of actors on a movie or television set. If you saw the movie D2: The Mighty Ducks, you heard Brian's work.

what was this guy from the "left coast" doing in Ameri-ca's heartland with a tape recorder in the middle of a thunderstorm? He was there working on his newest CD.

It is called, appropriately enough, Thunderstorms. A 60-minute compact disk containing track after track of, you uessed it, storms.
From the soothing pitter-patter of tiny raindrops to the frightening crackle of lightning to the ominous rumble of dis tant thunder, this CD covers all the bases. You can listen to the pounding of a driving downpour, the drumbeat of shifting winds along with 23 tracks of individual lightning Recording all of these sounds was quite a challenge even for someone as experienced and gifted as Brian. Most of his work in TV and the movies is in a controlled environment like a large studio. To record his Thunderstorm CD, Brian was working in an environ-ment that was definitely out of ontrol.

Safety was his first priority. Brian did most of his work in his car placing his recording equipment in the passenger seat. His best recordings came at night

The thunderstorms weren't as violent in the evening and there were fewer people around, too. This was one time he didn't want to record the sounds of civilization.

what he wanted on audio tape was the sound of Nature throwing a tantrum. The boom of thunder and the crack of lightning. That was a no-brainer when he parked his car in the middle of a Oklahoma "frog strangler"

Yet recording a developing storm or a squall-line moving away from his very sensitive microphones was a bit more difficult. He solved the problem by parking at an abandoned airport outside of Kansas City where he could record the sounds of a distant storm.

Brian's CD includes photographs of thunderstorms, lightning safety tips and an explanation of how lightning forms. Meteorologist Richard Keen adds an informative com-

I had the police at my office all day on that Friday.

If they don't have enough bus drivers they should hire more. We parents depend on them to pick our children up and bring them home. About 95 percent of the parents work and need this help. Now, I have been taking my child to and from school. I have to take time off to take him home because I don't trust the bus system.

The issue needs to be addressed and some kind of solutions need to be taken.

Something needs to be done and done fast before something really happens with a smaller child. My son was lucky this time, but what if he isn't the part time?

Letter to the editor

We need your reader's help...

The Salvation Army has been serving the Glades area for over 50 years. We have made a special emphasis at Christmas time in order to assist needy Western Palm Beach County fami-lies. It is with a great deal of joy that we offer this type of assistance to the wonderful people We served just over 750 families in 1992, 1,000 in 1993, and over 1,500 in 1994, in the Belle Glade and Pahokee areas. We distributed toys, clothing and food to each family.

In order for us to properly register the families, and to process the necessary applications, we made our registration in the early to middle weeks of October. Our registration dates for the Pahokee/Canal Point area are Oct. 12, 13, 19, and 20. They will be held at the City of Pahokee gymnasium, 171 N. Lake Ave. The registration dates for the Belle Glade/South Bay area are Oct. 9-11. 16-18.

The problem lies in my inability to locate a site wherein registrations can be held. This is quite a dilemma. Perhaps your readers can help to solve this problem, by offering a site or by offer ing suggestions as to a potential site, in time to notify the families in the area. Time is short and we need your help

Sincerely.

Farm program opponents resort to lies and distortions

By Robert Buker Senior Vice President United States Sugar Corp.

How about a farm program that doesn't cost the taxpayers a penny, puts millions back into the U.S. Treasury, protects American farmers from unfair subsidized foreign competition, and seps consumer prices low? It's not fanciful. It already exists. But because of a very successful campaign of disinformation, it's threatened with elimination.

This ideal program is the federal government's sugar program. It's a loan program, not a subsidy. The loans are repaid each year with interest. It doesn't cost the taxpayers a cent. In fact, for the past 10 years sugar farmers have been paying a marketing assessment that now contributes $30 million annually to the U.S.

If Congress is looking for a successful farm program that's undergone significant belt tight-ening over the years, then this is it. While the marketing assessment and other costs for sugar farmers have increased, the loan rate, set 10 years ago at 18 cents per pound, is the same today; albeit eroded by inflation, meaning it's worth a third less today than it was in 1985. This affects thousands of farmers who grow beet and cane sugar in 15 states. These include farms with as few as 100 acres in sugar beet or thousands of acres of cane; individual family farms and, of course, corporate farms. But even the nation's largest sugarcane producer, for example, is owned by its employees, more than 2,000 individual farmer-owners working together in a single efficient operation.

The government sugar program also affects the tens of thousands of farmers growing corn that is used to produce corn sweeteners. In all, the American sugar and sweetener industry is responsible for nearly 420,000 jobs in 42 states, where it has an economic impact in excess of

In the process it has assured that American consumers pay less for sugar than consumers in virtually every industrialized country in the world. Less than the Japanese, the French and the Germans.

So, you may wonder, if it's not costing the gov-

So, you may wonder, it it's not costing the gov-ernment and it's working to keep food prices low and create good jobs, why is it endangered? Because ideological free-traders who think the path to free-trade is to eliminate America's trade protection first, and then hope our foreign competitors follow, have joined together with wild-lay allights.

These include consumer advocates who believe These include consumer advocates who believe that if farmers are earning a living consumers must be paying for it; environmentalists who don't recognize the importance of growing food in this country and forget that farmers were the first stewards of the land; and giant food compa nies who are looking to enhance their profits at the expense of farmers and consumers alike. To achieve their goal they have successfully instance, that the sugar program should be cut to help reduce the federal budget deficit even though they know it's not a budget expense and it's elimination would increase the deficit, not

They've claimed Americans pay higher food costs, when the cost of food to the average American has dropped from 10 percent to 8 percent of disposable income in the last 10 years. They even rolled out the bureaucrats of the General Accounting Office to produce figures to support their preconceived conclusions. First the GAO announced that the sugar program costs consumers $1.4 billion per year in higher food costs. Then it calculated that taxpayers are paying $60 million extra for the food the government buys. To come up with these figures the GAO assumes that the United States, one of the largest users of sugar in the world, could buy all its sugar in the world market without driving up prices. It also assumed that the giant food companies would pass along any savings from lower sugar prices. But history and market realities have shown both these assumptions to be

First, despite the wishes of the GAO, there is no free world market in sugar. Today, 110 nations produce sugar, and nearly all protect their sugar industries with various barriers to free trade.

Taxpayers in Europe pay their farmers more than 30 cents per pound to grow sugar. The result is a huge surplus that is dumped into the world market to fetch whatever price it can get, recently less than 14 cents per pound, a fraction of what it costs the Europeans to produce it.

That's usually called dumping.

The GAO also didn't notice that even with lower sugar prices the giant food companies never give consumers a break. The government's own Department of Agriculture and the Department of Labor Statistics data show that while gar prices have fallen in the past five years by 6.8 percent, the prices of food products contain 6.8 percent, the prices of food products containing sugar have gone up in some cases as much as 22.3 percent. So the cost of the sugar program as calculated by the GAO (87 m more than politically motivated wishful thinking.

But as if these lips-weren't enough, in what must be the height of hypocrisy, the opponents of the sugar program are now pesing as-allies of farmers, suggesting that the sugar program endangers other farm programs.

Applying the Machiavellian principle of dividing and connecting, cononents of the sugar program in gand connecting, cononents of the sugar pro-

Applying the Machiaveljian principle of divid-ing and conquering, opponents of the sugar pro-gram are willing to use whatever, and whoever, they need to achieve their political goal, which is the elimination of all farm programs. It's a tech-nique that will work only if American farmers allow it to work. Don't.

Canal Point United Methodist continues to celebrate their 75 year anniversary

What a time to be in Canal Point! The Canal Point United Methodist Church is celebrating it's 75th anniversary, and this past Sunday's re-enactment of the early 1920's gave everyone who participated an awareness who participated an awareness of another day, another time in the history of the Glades. As the circuit rider, Dr. John Simon, who is the West Palm Beach who is the West Palm Beach District Superintendent, came up Everglades Street from the Canal, with his spirited horse, members of the church family greeted him, and followed him to the church, on Second Street, where the rest of the church family gathered out in the street to welcome him. The excitement over the circuit right greacher's arrival seemed to be contagious as Dr. Simon came into the church sanctuary. be contagious as Dr. Simon came into the church sanctuary.

As the preacher's inspiring message was heard, it seemed that our hearts and minds were filled with the remembrance of those who had traveled this way before, courageous Godly people, who didn't give up in he midst of the difficulties of life. The phenomenal events of the day continued as an old-fashioned covered dish dinner was enjoyed, complete with a huge birthday cake, and lots of good fellowship. Then the entire church family went back into the sanctuary, where a huge replica of a 7 inch birthday cake had been placed, among a sea of balloons, to create an atmos-phere of celebration for the cess with the "Success For All Reading Program" adopted by the school last year.

The teachers who administered the tests, two weeks ago, to place students into reading groups, discovered that the majority of students retained what they learned last year. In fact, many students tested into higher reading groups!

Expectations are soaring and the new school year looks very promising.

In order to maintain the level of learning and to enhance the reading groups. This year, Rosenwald has a lead tutor, Linda Krisburg, and five tutor assistants; Geraldine Simmons, Jacqueline Stewart, Allison Jones, Alfreda Knowles, and Laura Garza. As a result of this change, twice as many students will receive the tutoring they need in order to become better readers.

As part of the many parent involvement programs being implemented this school year, teachers, students and parent in grades Pre-K through second grade will be involved in a program, entitled "Reising and program entitled "Reising and parents and program entitled "Reising and parents and parent program entitled "Raising Readers". Lake Shore Middle School has been having lots of action since the first day of school So far, Lake Shore Middle has had two dances, which have been very successful. Both dances took place in the school gym. The first dance was on Sept. 13, 1995. In just that one dance, the school earned $946 for student activities and trips. The second dance was on Sept. 15, 1995 and was also successful.
To all parents of students attending Lake Shore Middle School, there will be an Open House in the gym of Lake Shore Middle on Sept. 21, 1996. Everyone is welcome to come.
There will be door prizes and refreshments will be served.

Glades Day Gators vs. long time rival Benjamin

The Gators will play Benjamin in a District (2A) game to be held Friday Sept. 22 at the Bues field in Palm Beach Gardens.

Benjamin has been one of Gleake Day's biggest rivals for many years. On Sept. 24, 1993, the Gators lost to Benjamin 31-12 and then on Sept. 23, 1994 the Gators came back to win against the Bucs 27-3.

Coach Mandy Perez had this to say about the upcoming game, 'In the last four games against Benjamin, the Gators won two and the Bucs won two No matter how good the teams are, there are always close games. You can throw previous games out the window. They will be ready and we will be ready. The advantage

Benjamin has is the fact that they are used to playing in the day (4 o'clock games) and we play at night. The Gator's advantage is the fact that we have been playing a tougher schedule of teams.

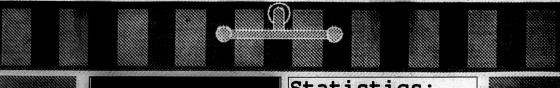

We will be ready to play and they will be ready to play ball will be the team who goes out there ready to play ball will be the team who wins."

Pahokee Blue Devils vs. Cocoa Beach Minutemen

The Blue Devils will play Cocoa Beach in a District (3A) game to be held Friday, Sept. 22 at Cocoa Beach's field.

The District teams have been realigned this year and we have never played the Minutemen. The main concern I have is how the players are going to perform after having a off week. We hope to keep up the momentum we have had the last few games," said Pahokee head coach Joe Marx.

Wrapping it up...Glades Central Defensive Back Lazarus Ja #10, gets a sore arm wrapped by one of the coaches during Friday night's winning game against Olympic Heights.

Glades Central Raiders 21. Olympic Heights 12

By Brandt Bates
You would hate to think that the Raiders were looking ahead to the Olympic Heights game when they played Spanish River, but that seemed to be exactly the case. It also didn't hurt to see Simms and Musalet seemingly recovered from the previous weeks injuries.

The Raiders took the crowd out of the game early as Musalet hit Harriet on the look-in and the Raiders took a 7-0 lead midway through the first quarter. The Lions would return the favor though after a number of missed tackles by the Raiders on Olympic Heights Corey Cola. The Lions failed on the 2-point conversion which brought the score to 7-6 at the end of the first quarter.

Olympic neignts cores of 7-6 at the end of the first quarter.

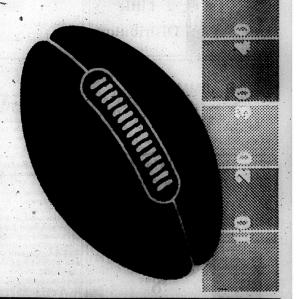

On the ensuing kickoff the Lion's kicker sent the ball out of bounds twice. He was giving the Raiders special teams coach a hint of what was to come later. Musalet and Grant hooked up on a couple of rush hour traffic catches, but Grant held the ball after solid hits by the Lions. The Raiders moved the ball downfield well and were facing a fourth and 1 when the Raiders special teams coach pulled a rabbit out of his hat on a punt by Dan Brown for a gain of about 25 yards. The play was nullified by a hold on the Raiders and Denson came on Lo punt. On the Lions next possession, the Raiders Dan Brown showed his recovery speed and hauled in the interception.

On their next possession, the Raiders Musalet and WR McCall would read the coverages differently as McCall went fade. The fade route was there and it would have been a sure six. After exchanging punts, the Raiders regained possession with about five minutes remaining before the half. The Raiders Arthur Brown had a few runs nullified by holding penalties. The Raiders moved the ball down to about their 35 yard line and after a failed fourth and four attempt, returned possession to the Lions.

At halftime, Raiders 7 - Lions 6.

Mike credits his forecasting ability to his background in football. "I played football in high school and one year in college," he notes. Mike was in the last graduating class for old Belle Glade, High School, back in 1971. He says he does his own picking, without seeking advice from other employees at Ace ake Hardware.

David Rimes with Lake Welding got off to a rough start this week, predicting only 6 of the 9 games. We're just kinda guessing," admits David, who adds that he has been getting advice from his day.

We've got some advice for David...fire your helper!!

Big A Vereen with Glades Ford and Vera Robinson with the Paint Store also got 9 right this week.

Since this section of the newspaper goes to pres Monday evening, we couldn't wait for the results of the Miami game, so look on Page 2 of this week's dition of The Sun to see the final standings.

The "Most Improved Player" for the game was seventh grader Jayme seventh grader Jayme Arnold, who was playing in her first game. She had four service points, including two and suffered one loss this past week.

The girls played Clewiston Middle Sept. 12, and won 15-5 and 15-6 and then played Berean. Christian JV on Thursday night. They lost that match 15-10, 15-8.

Coach Karen Hansford attributes strong serving to the win against the Tigers. "The Clewiston players had a difficult time returning the serves," when noted "We also had a good passing game," said Ocach Hansford. "We also had a good passing game," said Ocach Hansford. victories, caung an the way back to October of 1993. So cach Hansford said she feels her team played pretty well "considering the girls were up against an older team. We got caught out of position a few times, which hurt us at the net. We're going to work on that, and hopefully, give them a better match next time, she added. The Most Improved Player accolades go to seventh grader Olivia Moya, who had two service points, including one ace. Coach Hansford said she also made

RAIDERS, GATORS

Glades Day vs. St. John Neumann

Glades Day vs. St. John Neumann on Sept.

11, 1995 ends in a win for Glades Day Varsity Volleyball team.

We won because we got our serving, setting and spiking working all at the same time.

Our players of the game were Tamam
Barhoush with 10 serving points, 2 aces and 1

We won because here serving and play at the net was much better this game and Denelda King because here setting was on the money which is why we were able to get so many kills.

Glades Day vs. Moore Haven Terriers

Glades Day vs. Moore Haven on Sept. 12, 1995 ended with a win for the Gators. 15-7, 15-

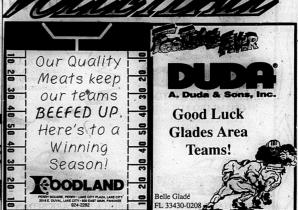

The Gators won because we had better serve receive and our serves were better." Our players of the game were Ashly Curtiss who had 7 service points and 3 aces; Alicia Schaper who had 3 service points, 2 aces and 4 kills; and Fida Musallet who had 3 service points and 3 kills.

Our most improved players are Malini Beharry who had 4 service points, 3 aces and Kill for offense. There were none in this game for defense but they all played very well.

The next game for the fastors is at Pahokee on Sept. 18 and at American Heritage on Sept. 19.

The both of the matches we will need to play our best. We need to continue to work on our serving game."
